Additional Information:

COURSE MATERIALS

Each unit contains a combination of course notes, media files, discussion boards, assignments, and drop boxes.

Course Notes: The course notes are the ‘meat’ of the unit and set the stage for your other readings and activities. You MUST read through the course notes as well as textbook readings before completing any assignments or discussion posts.

Discussion Questions (Posts): The discussion questions are designed to help you understand the course content or to help you put theory into practice. They are a required part of the course, and all discussion posts will be marked using the discussion rubric located in the D2L course space

Initial post: The initial post should be a minimum of 250 words and a maximum of 500 words (word counts do not include any references that you list). Post directly to the discussion board (no attachments).

Each student should integrate the textbook and course note readings to respond to the question. Your response should provide evidence of your reading and participation in the course. The initial post must be completed by the due date in order to receive any marks for it. Discussions posted after the due date will be graded a 0%.

Response posts: After your initial post, you should post responses to two other classmates. Response posts should be 75-150 words long and contribute a depth of thought and add insight to the overall discussions. Like initial posts, all response posts must also be completed by the due date in order to receive any marks.

Instructor participation: I will respond and enhance posts periodically when necessary and appropriate.

Forty percent of your final grade for this course is based on the quality of work shown in your discussion posts. That is a lot! Take note of this and participate accordingly.

ASSIGNMENTS: Assignments are an important part of your learning. It is strongly recommended that you keep copies of your work before submitting it to me, so go ahead and save a copy on your computer.

Instructors have the right to set specific deadlines for each of the assignments (or their parts) in any course. Late assignments will be penalized (see our late policy at the end of this course outline).

Forty percent of your final grade for the course is based on the quality of work shown in your assignments. All assignments will be marked using the assignment rubric located in your D2L course space. Assignments should be submitted in a Word document or PDF format. All written work is to be submitted directly to me through the D2L Drop Box. I do not accept emailed copies. If you are citing any thoughts, ideas, or quotes that are not your own, please use APA style. If you are unsure of any aspect of APA style, you can either refer to the APA manual within your D2L or contact the GPRC Library for APA assistance.
